This is what we agree...

 - offer internet access that is filtered for safety
 - support students who need help dealing with online incidents
 - take action when a negative online experience happens between students - even if it takes place outside of school hours

WHAT TO DO IF SOMETHING BAD HAPPENS ONLINE

Huntly College is committed to helping you if something goes wrong online.

Online bullying. Incidents of online bullying or harm will not be tolerated at our school. If you or somebody else is being bullied or harmed online, it's never okay at any time. This type of harm doesn't usually just go away. It's important to keep the evidence of what is happening to you or someone so this can be investigated. Don't put yourself at further risk by continuing any contact with the person or people who are bullying online or creating harmful or hurtful content. It's very important to let someone at school like your Puna Ako teacher or one of the Deputy Principals know what's happening so you can get the right help and support you need. You should also consider talking to a trusted adult like your parent, your whānau or guardian for support.

Report a problem. You should report an online incident or if you suspect something is happening online as soon as you can to your Puna Ako teacher. Once the school is made aware of a problem, they will assess the problem and work to resolve it.

Online safety support. Netsafe is an online safety organisation that is also available to help. They provide free confidential advice seven days a week for all online safety challenges. They can be contacted on 0508 638723 or online at netsafe.org.nz
